Partial returns from the congressional races follow:

Second district, 143 precincts of 238, Fulmer 10,668; Lever 8,789.

Third district, 208 of 312 precincts, Dominick 8,408; Ouzts 2,386; Taylor 12,716.

Smith, rounding out 24 years of service, asked renomination upon his record, and pledged himself to adhere to the democratic national platform, including the plank for repeal of the eighteenth amendment and modification of the Volstead act.
Blease, long an active figure and often a storm center of South Carolina politics, also pointed to his own record in aking support. He declared against a change in the dry laws until after the "white democrats" of the state had spoken on the question by a referendum.

Outright repeal of the eighteenth amendment was the principal plank in Williams' platform. The extreme dry position was taken by Harris, who asserted he was opposed to any modification of the present laws.

The astronomer must not forget to uncap a lens or draw the slide of his plate-holder; he must not, in nervous tension and excitement, misplace any part of his equipment; and all observations are made in the deep obscurity of the eclipse.

The eclipse occurs in the midafternoon, at an hour progressively later at the more southern stations. At Island Pond mid-eclipse is at 3:27 p. m., e. s. t., and therefore the sun is midway down the afternoon sky.

This may be witnessed as a partial eclipse over the entire continental area of the United States; in California the magnitude is about 15 per cent.

WASHINGTON, Ga., Aug. 30.—
The question of whether or not Wall that an intensive campaign will be launched at once to acquaint the overs of the county with the more important features of this candidate's platform.

Miss Billie O'Kelley, head of the department of history at the Georgia State College for Women and the Candidate's sister, is in charge of head-quarters at 216 Mitchell street, S. W. Club officials are J. T. Hammond, J. L. Dorris, Mrs. Lucy Brotherton, Reese T. Dutton, Fred Scheer, Pai Parker, E. V. Dial and Tom Hubbard.

About 20 automobiles met the governor on the outskirts of Washington and formed an escort to the courthouse, where a crowd had overflowed to the surrounding lawn.

"The issue in this campaign for the senate is as to whether Georgians for the next 20 years must bow to their knees in subservience to the Georgia Power Company," Governor Russell declared. "If I should be defeated—but I am not going to be—nother Georgian would dare for a quarter of a century to say Georgia Power Company out loud in a political campaign.

"And domination of Georgia politics by the Georgia Power Company means rentrol of this state," multiple affairs but there are a large number of able attorneys who do not sell their souls and votes for fees paid to them to represent the power company in the courthouse."

merce at 4:30 o'clock. Before leaving Atlanta, Burch said:

"The matter of the election of a commissioner of agriculture should not only interest the farmers of the state, but also the city voters as well. Product raised on the farm is sold in the cities, as well as consumed on the farm, and product rich in food values is a prideful boast of the state of Georgia because of the splendid climatic and soil conditions we have. However, one very important matter climatic and soil conditions we have. However, one very important matter to the city dwellers is that of milk. The dairies of the state should have every assistance from the department of agriculture, in order that the best food values may be obtained, as well as a healthful cleanliness. Dairymen are keenly interested in the race, and I feel that I have the support of a great majority of them because they know I am practical in my methods."

VICTORY IN PRIMARY BY GOOD MARGIN SEEN BY J. O. WALL

J. Oscar Wall, in a statement Tuesday, said that his campaign had reached the stage where it was possible to predict his victory by a "more than comfortable majority."

"I find," Wall said, "that the people appreciate the fact that I am the only candidate for commissioner of agriculture offering a definite workable plan of farm relief. They have found out that my plan is not just a theory evolved from the comfort of a swivel chair, but that it was worked out on my own farm, and the farms of my neighbors, by actually growing and marketing Georgia products. There has been too much ucts. There has been too much theory in the various farm relief measures. What we need is a little hard-headed common sense. I served four years in the state legislature and tour years in the state legislature and have the friendship and confidence of that body and believe that my recommendations will receive its friendly consideration. And there must be co-operation between any successful commissioner and the body that votes the funds with which the department is operated."

Soviet Retreat?

Everybody here in Russia, even in dently striving to refute a widespread belief here that the Kremlin has embarked upon a new road of compro-mises with capitalism. He ridicules this notion.

The conviction of many that the soviet regime is inaugurating a "Neo-nep" or new economic policy, M. Kaganovitch branded as "simply ridic-ulous." Recently the commissar of agriculture, Jacob Yakovlev, similarly explained that, despite seeming inno-vations, the government was adhering to its previous line. Nevertheless, the belief persists that the Kremlin, under the pressure of industrial and agricultural difficulties, is increasingly providing more scope for private initiative and deliberately stimulating the instinct for private profit, of which theoretically it is the sworn enemy.

All branches of national life reveal the tendency to emphasize again indithe revision of university and lower school curricula to provide more space for purely cultural non-propagandist subjects. Whatever the cause or meaning of the new decrees, they certainly gnify a big change. (Copyright, 1932, for The Constitution.)

THE ECONOMY OF AMBULANT TREATMENT.

TREATMENT.

Within the past ten years progressive physicians have developed satisfactory technique for the ambulant treatment of several conditions which formerly required hospitalization and confinement to bed for periods of days or weeks. By ambulant treatment we mean treatment which is successfully employed while the patient keeps at his ordinary work or activities. First came the injection or chemical obliteration of varicose veins. Then the diathermy extirpation of infected tonsis. Then the injection treatment of internal hemorphoids. Then the injection treatment of hernia.

It is only fair and right to say that. It is only fair and right to say that, in competent hands, every one of these modern methods is giving at least as satisfactory results as the older standard surgical treatment gives in competent hands. I think the risks involved are rather less in ambulant treatment than they are in the older methods of operating. So far as I can learn the prospect of recurrence or of failure to cure or give lasting relief is no greater when ambulant treatment is selected than it is when the standard operation is done.

Some physicians of good standing and repute still disapprove, condemn or advise patients against having amand repute still disapprove, condemn or advise patients against having ambulant treatment, mainly, I fear, because these good physicians have not had an opportunity to see such treatment applied by a man who has made a proper study of the method and received adequate clinical instruction in the technic. I know this is the basis of the unfavorable view taken by some throat surgeous of the diathermy method for tonsils. From the character of inquiries I have received from clinical surgeons in reference to the cclinical surgeons in reference to the ambulant treatment of hernia I know they, too, base their prejudice upon their ignorance of the scientific prin-ciples of such treatment. The in-jection treatment of hernia has been most bitterly condemned by well mean-ing but nevertheless ignorant surgeons ing but nevertheless ignorant surgeons—ignorant of this modern method. Here and there these surgeons are seeing the light and even getting down off the high horse and seeking clinical instruction in the ambulant method Insurance carriers find that hernia case, treated by the standard operation, costs around $400—hospital expense, doctors' fees, and compensation for eight weeks disability. pensation for eight weeks disability. The ambulant treatment can be given for less than half that total cost no hospital charges to pay, no loss of time for the patient. Some large intime for the patient. Some large industrial corporations are beginning to take an interest in this, and physicians and surgeons investigating the method for such corporations are constrained to report that it does effect cure of the hernia. In the circumstances it behoves the profession to keep an open mind—which is something our would-be medical leaders too often lack.

"In times too often charac-"In times too often characterized by small politics Congressman Charles R. Crisp stands out as an exemplar of largeminded statesmanship. This is true of his entire career as representative of the third Georgia district, but especially of his conduct during the arduous days of the present session of the house. As acting chairman of the ways and means committee, he has borne the brunt of the herculean labor of balancing the nation's labor of balancing the nation's budget. His responsibility to his party has been great, still great-er to his country, and he has shouldered it with a wisdom, a steadfastness and a courage that demands the heartiest respect of the whole congress and that de-serves the thanks of the Ameri-can people. If there were more like Charles R. Crisp, ours would be a better government and be a better government and happier nation. These words of eulogy were spoken at a time when there was no politi-cal race on, and I naturally presumed that it was written without bias or prejudice and that it was a just and true appraisement of a faithful public servant.

it must be true in August. Perhaps this change of heart was brought about by the appointment of the edipired term of the late Senator Harris. If so, then necessarily readers will take what it has to say in advocating another person for the United States senate with a grain of salt. OAK MOUNTAIN SPRINGS, Ga., Aug. 29 .- (By Mail.) There is a postoffice near here which has the very beautiful and romantic name of Waverly Hall. It has, has the city of and romantic name of Waverly Hall. It has, has the city of Waverly Hall, a small but efficient business section, one of the BOYNTON FIGHTS stores in which opened for business in 1869 and is still going

And most of the conversation during the midday siesta has to do with Rogers Hornsby and the rush of the Cubs under Charley Grimm. Of course there never was such a rush as George Stallings geared the Braves up to in 1914. But this one under Charley Grimm has the boys by the ears, pulling them along with it. It came when Rogers Hornsby and his ball players, who were also his loan sources, had made a feeble bid and dropped back.

It is quite a rush and, incidentally, quite a tribute to Charles John Grimm, who was selected to succeed Hornsby. But there is no reason to overlook the Yankees and one of the most remarkable managers in major league baseball, Marse Joe Mc-Carthy.

Marse Joe has been doing a good job of work ever since he was called to take over the Cubs in 1926. The Cubs were a broken down lot when he took them that year. And yet in three years he had them in a world

Curious thing about Marse Joe. He never played in the major leagues himself. He was almost there twice but those little vagaries of fate which slip into the best-laid plans side-tracked

A less sturdier fellow than Marse Joe might have started bewailing his luck and given up. But he didn't. And there is no major league manager more highly esteemed than he.

Marse Joe was playing with Indianapolis once and they sold him to the Browns. But the deal was cancelled. And once Buffalo sold him upstairs but the deal was called off. And when the Federal league was going along, McCarthy signed with them only to see peace made and the Federals disbanded that same winter. So he never heard the roar of a big league crowd cheering one of his plays.

THE FLEA-BITTEN CUBS.

McCarthy was called to take over the flea-bitten, motheaten Cubs in 1926. He stayed there five years and might have been there yet had not the late William Wrigley been consumed with the desire to win a pennant or else. And another of the stories is that Rogers Hornsby used to sit around in the stands while a bad ankle was healing and tell the late William Wrigley how baseball should be played. At any rate, Hornsby got the job.

The Yankees had just had a fair sort of season with Bob Shawkey after Miller Huggins' untimely death. And McCarthy got that job. It was about as difficult as the one he'd had with the Cubs. Probably more so. The Yankees were a lot of high-priced stars, most of them possessed of more than a moderate amount of temperament.

Jack Simpson paired with Halver-stadt to beat Frank Corrigan and Tom Clark, 6-2, 6-2. Of the young players, Pierre Howard, Decatur champion, was eliminated in the doubles when he and his partner, Robert Jackson, bowed to the team of Charlie Gardner and John Oliver, 6-1, 10-8. In the singles, Malcom Manley was trailing Cecil Eirod one set a: nightfall, after capturing his opening match.

But McCarthy made them see just what a swell job they had—working two hours each afternoon—travel-ing—living in the best hotels—eating the best of food— regarded as public heroes—to be one of the Yankees is to be with the aristocracy of baseball.

McCarthy did not try to enforce prohibition laws. He left it up to the players. "If it shows up on you on the field, you are through," he said. And they had seen by then, probably for the first time, what it meant to work just a couple of hours a day and draw down hig money for it. He's had no trouble. And he's done his second great job in the majors. He's had just two.

GERALD WALKER.

One sees by the Sunday papers that Gerald Walker is hit-ting .322 with the Detroit Tigers and regarded as one of the best outfielders on the club.

It wasn't so long ago that Gerald Walker was lugging a football for Mississippi and causing quite a lot of in to the coaches who get up the defensive set for the Saturday games. I recall seeing Gerald Walker in a couple of games. There wasn't a better ball carrier in Dixie. And there was quite a sigh of relief from Mississippi's opponents when Gerald Walker answered the siren call of big league money and signed a contract.

Gerald Walker was batting .350 on July 4 and had just about hit the Tigers out in front. Both have slipped back a bit, but the boy still ranks as one of the better ball players of the

Walker broke into baseball with Evansville in the old Three-I league, the favorite league of the baseball fiction writers, and the next two years was in the Mid-Atlantic. It was when he came back to Evansville in 1930 that he really set some new minor league records. He stole 50 bases in 55 attempts, for one thing. And also did some remarkable batting. That was through July 4. It was on that day he got eight hits and stole six bases in the two games of that day. He broke his

And with the season nearly gone he is batting .322 and is well up in stolen bases, although that leg naturally has stopped him a bit mentally.

But back he is.

Tyre Jennings and Molly Williamson defeated Bob Haire and Malcom Reybold, 6-3, 6-4.

FOOTBALL IS NEAR.

Comes a wire from H. J. Stegeman at Athens saying that their-annual field day for the press is scheduled for Thursday

This means that football is but a hop, skip and jump way. Each year the Georgia coaches invite the football writers over from Atlanta, beat them soundly at golf, talk over the prospects of winning a few games, sit the boys down to a delightful dinner and then get ready for the kick-off.

The next time the football writers see the Georgia coaches they will be looking wan and drawn. They will be biting their finger nails and talking a bit brusquely. This meal Thursday is probably the last one they will enjoy until they sit down to turkey next Christmas.

SOME REVERBERATIONS.

This delightful spot is not many miles from Columbus, a matter of 30-some-odd miles being all. And last night a gentleman was heard in the lobby here talking about beauty contests and taking in vain the names of your faithful old reporter, Ole Timer and O. B. Keeler.

It developed that the gentleman, Mr. Jack Ellis, a

All Other Favorites Breeze Through as Play Is Pushed Here.

By Jimmy Jones.

Seeded players continued to romp along at top form as the Cotton States tennis tournament neared the quarterfinals yesterday, with all of the ranking favorites winning their matches in straight sets, with the excention of George Boynton, seeded No. 4, who had a heated struggle with young Hall Crawford, of College Park, before winning out in a noonday match, 6-4, 2-6, 9-7.

In order to speed up the action so that the doubles could get under way, most of the players had to play two matches.

Matches.

All of the top-rank favorites breezed through these handily enough. Billy Reese, the tall young man who holds the city championship, eliminated Carter Horne, 6-0, 6-1, and then put Henry Swift out by straight set scores of 6-1, 6-3.

SIMPSON WINS.

Jack Simpson, seeded No. 2, eliminated Lewis White, 6-1, 6-2, after White had beaten Glenn Dudley, 6-2, 2-6, 6-1.

Jimmy Halverstadt, No. 3 player, eliminated a fellow townsman in the person of young Winship Nunnally, 6-1, 6-1. Nunnally previously had beaten Howard Brown.

George Boynton, after beating Crawford in the morning, added to his laurels for the day by trimming A. E. Martin 6-2, 9-7, and then took A. F. Martin 6-2, 9-4, and then took on Reggy Fleet, having one set on him, 6-4, when play was halted. In addition to their singles achieve-ments, most of the front runners dip-ped into the doubles, also. Leaders Continue Mad Rush to Pennant; Lazzeri Connects for Circuit as Chisox Bow.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Lou Gehrig came to the aid of an aspiring young teammate, John Thomas Allen, today and batted the Yankees into a 6-to-5-victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Gehrig walloped his 30th and 31st home runs of the season to knock in five of the Yankee tallies. As a result of his swatting, Allen marked up his 15th victory of the season, his ninth in succession and his fifth over the Pale Hose. He has lost only two games.

Young Johnny pitched one of his weakest games of the season, allowing 12 hits, four of them by Bill Sullivan, who scored two runs for the Sox. Chicago took a one-run lead right at the start, bunching three hits after two were out.

Geheig swung his big war club for the first time in the third inning, knocking in three runs. Combs singled and Babe Ruth drew the first of three straight walks off Paul Gregory before Gehrig drove the ball into the bleachers. Tony Lazzeri followed with a homer inside the park to give New York a 4-1 lead.

Two runs in the fourth and a homer by Red Kress in the sixth tied the count. The Sox went a run ahead in the eighth on Sullivan's single, Selph's double and Fothergill's fly. Then Ruth was passed again and Gehrig parked homer 31 in the bleachers to win the game.

GRANT ENTERS NATIONAL MEET: LEAVES TODAY

Atlantan Likely To Meet Parker and Lott in Tourney.

The national men's singles tennis lournament, which gets under way at Forrest Hills, N. Y., Saturday, will hold more than passing interest for Atlantans this year with the announcement yesterday from Bryan Grant, this city's foremost campaigner on national courts, that he will play in the tournament, Grant had filed his entry but did not decide until Tuesday to compete.

Grant and Cliff Sutter, of New Orleans, will be the only southerners in the national meet and both have accepted invitations sent them by officials.

Grant was uncertain about his entrance until yesterday noon, when he received notice that he had been seeded among 16 players and that his opening round opponent would be Ray Brown, of St. Louis. He beat Brown last year.

Should Grant survive the first two rounds it is almost certain be will meet Frankie Parker next. A victory over Parker would place him in a match with George Lott, provided Lott wins all his matches.

While Grant realizes the caliber of opposition he will have to face if he survives his first match, he is fairly well pleased with his draw. He feels that it will be worth the long trip if he can give a good accounting of himself against Parker.

Grant was scheduled to leave Atlanta early this morning for Forrest

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 31.—When Francis Ouimet and Jess Sweetser begin dreaming old dreams and living over other years, both make their first stop at the Country Club, Brookline, Mass.

This is the famous course where the United States and British Walker cup teams battle for supremacy on Thursday and Friday of this week. It is also the course that is haunted with regal ghosts as far as Ouimet and Sweetser are concerned.

It was at Brookline, 19 years ago, that Ouimet, at the age of 20, emerging from the great unknown land of golf, turned back single-handed the double charge of Harry Vardon and Ted Ray when both were

When Bobby Jones heard the shout that went up he must have sensed that something out of the ordinary had happened. It was only a few seconds before he discovered the worst.

The next episode was almost as startling as the first. Walking up the hill to get a better look at the piu's position, Jones went back for his big gamble, with the odds about 2,000 to 1 against him. His perfect pitch struck the green and stopped about a foot away for a birdie 3, which still wasn't good enough to get a half.

The husky Pacific coast star, whose big war clubs already have won the metropolitan and north shore opens, as well as coming close to triumphs in the national and western opens, might easily have collected a 65 instead of a 69. Four of his putts rimmed the cup or struck stubbornly to the lip of the cup. Because of the players involved the play-off stampede was the biggest attraction of a stormy day. Collins was the first to make the grade, canning an uphill putt of 22 feet for a birdie three. Chattanooga Appears To Be Most Likely Contender, But Mercer Is Threat.

ship this season, but Chattanooga University, the 1931 winner, still appears the most likely contender.

Another Tennessee team, Southwestern, of Memphis; Louisiana Tech, Mercer, Western Kentucky, Centre and possibly Presbyterian, Wofford or The Citadel may be strong. Millsaps and Mississippi College probably will be more dangerous than a year ago.

Centenary and Loyola again will have excellent teams but they play only a limited association schedue and victory in these one or two games hardly would win the championship for them.

Coach Andy Moore has 13 lettermen returning at Chattanooga but nine monogram wearers, including the crack center, Art Koeninger, are missing. Moore needs some tackles and a fullback, in addition to more reliable reserves. White, Halty and Ellis are three fine ends, Merritt is a good tackle and Halbach. Smith and Haswell are dependable ball carriers.

The Moccasins face four association foes, half as many as they encountered in their unbeaten march last season. Opening with Mississippi College, the Tennesseeans play Loyola, Mercer and Centre.

Many regard Mercer as the big threat this season. Coach Lake Rusting Many regard Mercer as the big threat this season. Coach Lake Rusting Many regard Mercer as the big threat this season. With a backfield headed by Quarterback Hal High, Southwestern will have one of the most powerful offensive quartets in the group. Newton, Knight and Womble are other ball luggers. Coach Jimmy Haygood has 15 lettermen available for three association contests with Union, Millsaps and Mississippi Teachers. He must replace an end and a center but the prospects are bright.

Citadel won four and lost one game last year and its new coach, Tatum Gressette, hopes to do even better this season, although graduation of star performers left several positions unprotected and he will need luck in finding replacements among the new-comers. With a backfield headed Union College's backfield will be stronger but most of the eight lettermen missing were tackles, guards and ends, and Coach A. B. Hollingsworth expects a tough job in filling these vacancies. The attack will be built around Captain Newt Marshall, an available theorem and support an excellent blocker and runner.

Centre's varsity will consist largely of juniors, since only Captain Breeding and Kottler are seniors. Good sophomores may help Coach Ed Kubale solve some of his problems.

With 11 lettermen returning, Coach Stanley Robinson at Mississippi College expects a successful season. His touchdown formations will be knitted around Bruce Hitt, the sensational sophomore of 1931.

Wofford's backfield outlook is satisfactory but Coach Tommy Scaffe needs several linemen to fill gaps in his forward wall. Millsaps' rating must depend on the work of its sophomores and reserves since 14 regulars are missing. Mississippi Teachers may be improved but none of Florida's teams—Rollins, Stetson and Mianii—figure very high in the preseason predictions.

For the first time in several years Presbyterian will have a heavy backfield. Coach Walter Johnson has 11 regulars around which to form his club. The line rounts he shullt from

The Dawn of CONFIDENCE

In Two Short Months over 16 billion dollars have been added to security values on the New York Stock Exchange – over twice the total amount of actual currency in circulation. More than the total business payroll of the country.

Rising commodity prices have added hundreds of millions to inventories and predict better farm incomes. Daily, the newspapers report openings of mills and factories. In driblets that will swell to mighty streams, men are returning to work. These are sign posts. The big news of the day is: Confidence, the greatest constructive force of all, is returning.

Out of the upturn that is bound to come, there will spring up a crop of new leaders—brands that have been prepared wisely for market. Brands for which desire has been carefully planted in the public mind—and the harvest will be good.

Loss of leadership will come to others. Those who forget that the people forget. Those who forget that this country, as it stands today, is the wealthiest market in the world, and offers handsome profits to those who have been diligently cultivating it.

Whatever the past three years have brought your business, the next three will offer golden opportunities. Get ready now. Gear your business for the turn.

The tremendous backlog of desires that exists today among American people will be fulfilled with known products and known values, and advertising will play an effective part in building sales and earnings for those companies who have the foresight to thoroughly acquaint the public with their wares.

If you believe that now is a time for careful preparation and planning; a time to recheck your product for possible improvement, new uses or better package design; a time to recheck your market and marketing methods; a time to get ready—then we would like to sit down with you so that both of us can find out if the way you work and the way we work can be fitted together in planning sales and advertising that will prove profitable to you—and to us.

Don't put it off. A meeting now may save you thousands of dollars by being fully prepared for changing competitive conditions, and it may mean increased and profitable sales for your product or service. Already very large activities are taking place in the Textile field. Incident with the rise of cotton and silk, stores are beginning to stock their almost empty shelves. "Too bad, partner; we didn't bid enough."

The heart King held, and South proceeded to make, as he thought, all the tricks by playing a low diamond to the King, with the object of ruffing the losing heart and discarding his only club on Dummy's Ace of diamonds. Unfortunately for the consummation of this brilliant plan, East over-ruffed the second heart and laid down the Ace of clubs, on which West played the 9. A low club followed, ruffed by South with the spade 10, and over-ruffed by West with the lone Queen. Another heart was led by West, which gave East his second ruff. Key won this contest and was given a heautiful basket of dahlias.

Those present were Mesdames H. R. Gill, F. W. Waller, W. B. Ellington, F. E. Hayes, G. R. Surratt, John Rooney. C. E. Key. Warren Loftis, not the safety of such a course. True Value of McCormick Estate Not To Be Known for Many Months CHICAGO, Aug. 30 .- (P)-Did | homes sold through the Edith Rockesocial dictator of Chicago for 30 years and long known as the "world's richest woman," die practically penniless? Attorneys and business associates familiar with the estate that once was valued at more than $40,000,000 said today it may have shrunk to such an extent that only enough remains to settle outstanding obligations.

Under present real estate valuations, those familiar with the McCormick holdings said the estate probably is worth very little.

"After it all is summed up, the estate may not be worth a cent," said former Judge Charles S. Cutting, who drew up Mrs. McCormick's will just three weeks before she died last Thursday.

three weeks before she died last Thursday.

"If financial conditions improve, the holdings may turn out to be worth a considerable sum. There is no one who could estimate accurately the value at present."

Edwin D. Krenn, business adviser and personal friend of Mrs. McCormick, was bequeathed five-twelfths of her estate, but has signed the inheritance over to his business partner, Edward Dato, in exchange for an annual income of $25,000.

Observers have pointed out that represents an income from only $400, 1000 at a rate of 6 per cent. Hewver, Krenn said he only wishes a sufficient income to spend the remainder of his life in Switzerland, his native country.

The republican prohibition plank echoed the stand of Vice President Charles Curtis, who voiced his opposition to repeal in his recent acceptance address here.

As to the holdings of the stabilization corporation it was opinion in some quarters that a substantial proportion of the 650,000 bales intended for marketing this season had already been sold.

The cotton market was extremely active again today with prices showing broad and erratic fluctuations, in a downward trend. Weakness in Liverpool started the decline and this was later helped by rather general selling.

The close was at the bottom, showing net losses for the day of 41 to 48 points. NEW ORLEANS FUTURES OFF 41 TO 48 POINTS NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30.—(P) points.

The market opened easy with heavy selling as Liverpool came in 18 to 22 penny points lower than due and eased off further before its close. Private cables stated there was general liquidation and Bombay selling, although there was also good trade calling. Manchester cabled the market there was disorganized with the turnover unimportant.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 11 to 12 penny points down.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—(P)—An early decline of approximately $3 per bale in cotton here today under heavy general realizing or liquidation was followed by a very shady rally, but after selling up from 8.82 to 9.23 for December on covering and trade buying, the market weakened again under renewed liquidation and southern selling.

December closed at 8.81, with the general market closing easy at net declines of 41 to 53 points.

The opening was 47 to 58 points lower and active months soon showed net losses of 48 to 63 points, with October selling off to 8.67 and March 8.87.

Many stor-loss orders were uncorrect.

Violent fluctuations were attributed largely to technical adjustments following recent extensive advances, and the attention of traders was practically monopolized by these conversions.

FENNER, BRANE & UNDERLEIDER.
CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—A bad break in cotton unsettled all the grain markets at the opening with wheat averaging about a cent lower, although Liverpool cables made almost a full respons to our advance of yesterday. Broomball said that the advance had checked the demand but offerings were still restricted to Causdian grades, Russia being out of the market and continental countries therefore forced in take Manitobas. We believe that increasing confidence displayed in this country will eventually be reflected in higher prices and a better demand. Live Stock MURRARD BROS. & CO. TO DORBS & CO. NEW YORK, Aur. 30.—The reaction which the trade had been expecting for some little time made its appearance this morning following the decline of yesterday with a 25-point break in Liverpool. Our market followed the decline abroad, opening some 50 points lower and after recovering haif of this loss again sold off to the lows of the day under heavy lightfatted. Trade are anticipating the effect of the movement which they expect will begin in the early part of September. and they feel that the pressing demand for the spinning trade has probably been filled. At the end of this week we abould begin to receive the private estimates which will demuch to crystalline sentiment regarding the coming bureau report, and may easily bring about a rally in the market, if they indicate a sufficient decline in the crop prospects. generally disregarded here.

Corn was in good demand with trade of the broadest volume reported for months. Oats were relieved of hedging pressure and in demand. Previsions eased with grains, hope and cotton.

Wheat closed weak at almost the day's bottom figures 1 to 1 3-8 helow yesterday's finish, corn 1-4 to 3-4 down, oats 1-8 to 1-2 off, and provisions 5 to 10 cents lower.

Enormous bookings of corn were n.a.le in the country and this served to check the advance, but the market held firm in view of the increased hedging.

Corn trade was regarded as the most general in several months. Profit-taking caused recessions from the best prices of the day. Oats were unsettled with wheat and corn.

FIRM TO AID RAILS

SEEN BY DOW-JONES NEW YORK. Aug. 30.—429—Dow, Jones & Co, said today that plans are being formulated for the organization of a railroad equipment finance corporation, in which the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and eight or nine of the leading equipment manufacturers will have a joint ment manufacturers will have a joint interest.

The organization, it is said, will operate without profit to atimulate and provide credit for new equipment purchases. It is understood that loans will be made up to 80 per cent of the cost of the equipment. Railroads would pay only a small pertion in cash, probably 10 per cent, and manufacturers would accept as partial payment equipment trust certificates for the remaining 10 per cent.

tificates for the remaining 10 per cent.

A movement was recently sponsored by the Washington administration to induce the carriers to make extensive expenditures to renovate equipment, borrowing for that purpose from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The railroad executives at a meeting in New York, however, declined to indores the plan in a body, suggesting that individual carriers act upon it according to their requirements.

C. O. The letter quoted Bass as saying: "We have had a number of farmers throughout the state who had their cotton with Putnam & Norman, not only seed loan cotton, but other cotton, and these producers felt they could get a better price for their cotton and a squarer deal by delivering to the association, and this particular firm has gone to almost any length to keep them from makin delivery to us."

Geren said he considered this a slander against his firm.

Million in Contracts To Be Let Within Next 30

Georgia's contemplated $5.000,000 road construction program this fall has been cut to approximately $4.000,000 due to strict federal regulations increasing the cost of labor and to increased cost of road building materials, J. W. Barnett, chairman of the state highway board, said Tuesday. Q. Why is it that all of the prizes go to people in Atlanta? Will it be that way this time?—F. P. M., Hull.

The chairman annouced, however that the highway board, carrying ou its previous expressed intention of that the highway board, carrying out its previous expressed intention of taking advantage of the more than $3.000,000 obtained through the emergency relief act, would let contracts in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 about October 1.

Chairman Barnett said that the fixing of a minimum wage for skilled and unskilled labor to be used by contractors from the lists of local unemployed and limiting their working time to 30 hours per week, in order to distribute the work among the needy, had necessitated contractors in-Georgia.

A. No, sirree: it isn't going to be that way this time; nor has it ever been. The Constitution has awarded many, many prizes to its rural readers. There is never discrimination, it frequently happens that a great many prizes are won by residents of At-prizes are won by residents of At-lanta, which is natural, because the greater part of The Constitution's cirneedy, had necessitated contractors in-creasing their bids to take care of the situation.

The contractors, the chairman explained, also were forced under the emergency act to do away with machinery wherever possible and use man power, which further increased their cost for labor.

Barnett said that actual construction under the August 16 letting totaling more than $2,000,000 would be under away by the latter part of the week.
